SUBJECT: Mitsubishi MU-2 Technical Publications

MODELS AFFECTED: All MU-2B Airplanes

Mitsubishi Heavy Industries America, Inc. (MHIA) publishes and distributes Mitsubishi MU-2 Technical Publications under license from Mitsubishi Heavy Industries, Ltd. (MHI). MHI owns the copyright on all such publications and therefore has the exclusive right to control their publication and distribution. In order to protect the copyright and the value and integrity of the Technical Publications, MHIA is required to enforce the copyright in situations in which MHIA learns the copyright is or may be infringed. If an owner/operator has properly acquired such a manual, it is an infringement of the copyright for that owner/operator to copy the Technical Publications for distribution to or allowing access by someone else, in paper, electronic or any other form. Therefore, MHIA advises that owner/operators should not copy any of MU-2 Technical Publications for the purpose of allowing others to have access or for general distribution. Of course this directive is not intended to prevent an owner/operator from copying his/her own Technical Publications for his/her own use, such as making a PDF copy for convenience.
